A smooth skating right-shot defenseman who was a bit inconsistent throughout the weekend, but Alexander looks to be among the top defensemen in the class. He's a smooth skater with a lot of poise and confidence on the puck and a big shot he can get through traffic. He will need to cut out some of the mental mistakes and puck-watching at the next level, but there's a lot to like here.

Visnapuu has gotten more and more impressive as he adds new elements to his game. A smooth skater with a good hockey IQ Alex is a relied-upon defender and one of the top penalty killers for his team. ## Jake Lewis - '05 Forward - Philadelphia Jr Flyers (U16)

10/22/2021 - AYHL Report

A 7th round phase 1 pick by the Fargo Force in the 2021 USHL draft, Lewis has had a slow start to his season in the AYHL. He is a gifted offensive talent who sees the ice extremely well and away from the puck he never cheats the game. His recent 4-point outburst vs the Titans might be what he needed to get a spark going to his production.

11/13/2021 - North Jersey Avs (6) vs Philadelphia Jr Flyers (6)

Another Jr. Flyers forward who creates a ton of offense for his team. He skates on a line with Jefferis and the two of them feed each other really well. ### 09/27/2021 - 2021 USHL Fall Classic - UPMC Lemieux Sports Complex

James looks to be one of the crown jewels of this 2006 birth year and it looks like he's a lock for the US National Team Development Program. Hagens' skill and intelligence with the puck is rivaled only by his excellent skating ability. He's a bit on the smaller side at 5'8 but never afraid to go to the dirty areas or take contact. He looks a lot like Jack Hughes did at this age, and wouldn't be shocking to see if he has a similar career trajectory.

10/17/2021 - Northeast Pack - Bridgewater, NJ

In a #1 vs #2 in the country matchup against Bishop Kearney, Hagens dominated. His early goal helped set the tone and he controlled every shift he was on for.
